GERVUS MYERS, SHOEMAKER AND LODGEMAN, DIES

Gervus W. Myers, 80, a local shoemaker and repairman who was widely known in lodge circles throughout Adams county, died this morning at 8:45 o'clock at his home, 32 East Middle street. He had been confined to bed since December 6 when he suffered a fall on a stairway at his home.

Mr. Myers was a native of Adams county and had lived in Gettysburg for the last 60 years. He was a shoemaker and repairman in his later years but previously had worked for some time as a yard clerk for the Western Maryland railroad here and when Gettysburg had a trolley line he worked as a motorman.

For the last 35 years, he had engaged chiefly in the shoe repair business here.

He also belonged to the Canton of York in the Odd Fellows.

Mr. Myers is survived by his wife of his second marriage, the former Sarah A. Patterson Geiselman; two sons by the first marriage to Ida J. Baugher who died in 1923, Ernie L. York Springs May Get New Rating

The York Springs high school may receive a junior-senior high school classification next year.

School officials there said today they have received permission from the state Department of Public Instruction to go ahead with a junior-senior high set-up this year. Following the usual procedure the program will be evaluated by the state next year and if found acceptable the North Adams jointure will be certified as operating on a six-year elementary, six-year high school plan. School officials noted that the organization of six-year elementary school, three years junior high and three years senior high not only provides better balanced instruction for the students but in addition larger state appropriations are made than for an eight-year elementary, four-year high school program.

SEEK MANIAC IN CATTLE DEATHS

A sex maniac is being sought by state police of the Gettysburg substation following reports from a Hanover road farmer of the deaths of two calves, injury to others and the discovery of a naked man in his barn at an early morning hour recently.

Ernest LeRoy Sponseller, Hanover R. 4, whose farm is located about a mile west of Brunshtown on the Gettysburg-Hanover road found a three-and-a-half-month-old calf dead in his barn when he went to do the chores on the morning of January 23.

Believing the calf had died of a disease, he had it disposed of. On the morning of January 26, according to state police, Sponseller's son, Norman, 14, went to the barn. He unlatched the upper half of a double door, turned on the electric light switch and saw a man standing naked, with a flashlight in his hand, in one of the stalls.

Police Ask Help

Norman ran back to the house, where he informed his older brother, Charles, 18, and his mother and father. Then Charles and Norman returned to the barn, but the

JURY REPORTS BOTH DRIVERS WERE AT FAULT

An Adams county jury hearing the three cases resulting from an accident between cars of the Rev. Fr. Joseph V. Smarsh, Berwick, and George W. Howe, York Springs R. 2, found both drivers negligent and awarded damages to Mrs. Howe for her injuries.

The jury began its deliberations at 2:08 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and reached its verdict seven hours and 12 minutes later, at 9:20 o'clock Wednesday night. At 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon it returned to the court room for some additional instructions and then went back to the jury room to continue its discussions.

When the jury finally reached its verdict it noted in the Joseph V. Smarsh versus George W. Howe case that "both parties are determined to be negligent and each should stand his own expenses and the jury recommends that both parties share the costs of the case."

A similar decision was reached by the jury in the case of George W. Howe versus Joseph V. Smarsh. In both cases the court molded the opinion to read that the jury found in favor of the defendant, thus keeping the decisions in line with proper procedure and also bringing about the result the jury desired.

Driver Acquitted

In the case of Grace Howe versus Joseph V. Smarsh and George W. Howe, the jury found in favor of Mrs. Howe in the sum of $412.34.

Meanwhile another jury Wednesday afternoon found John Kupinski, Philadelphia, innocent of a charge of drunken driving and divided the costs between Kupinski and Gettysburg Policeman Raymond Menges, who brought the charge. The court noted that under the evidence and instruction the jury could not lay any of the costs on Menges and that amount will be paid by the county.

Testimony in the case indicated that Kupinski was weaving back and forth on York street when he drove into the borough.

Other testimony given by Officer Menges noted that Kupinski had to hold on to the car when he got out of it, and that he had to lean up against a wall while waiting for the officer to park his car properly. Kupinski said he had been drinking at Philadelphia before leaving for Ohio. He said he had two glasses of beer but insisted he could have had no more, claiming that if he drank more he always became sick. He added that he was using a road map which was placed on the seat beside him and said his car may have veered when he glanced down at the map to determine what town he was coming into.

Watch Dress Rehearsal

The court Wednesday handed down an approval of the sale of the Hamiltonban township election house, located near Fairfield, to Stanley P. Pumphrey, Fairfield.

While the court officials waited for the Howe-Smarsh jury to return its verdict most spent their time watching court procedure being acted out by the county Little Theater Group.

The actual court officials took seats in the court room as spectators to watch the dress rehearsal of "The Night of January 16," a court room drama to be presented tonight and Friday. When the Smarsh-Howe jurors were ready to return the thespians had their turn to be spectators at court action, and trooped down into the court room to watch the court take over and hear the verdict returned by actual jurors.

Weather No Bar To Cashtown Fair

Cashtown's Community Fire company, used to "miserable weather" whenever it holds its annual mid-winter festival, was going ahead today with plans to conduct this year's firemen's bazaar at the Cashtown fire house tonight, Friday and Saturday despite the blizzard.

Bruce Wetzel, president of the fire company, and general chairman for the public festival, said that members of the company this morning shoveled all snow and slush off the parking lot at the fire hall, and that "there will be plenty of room and easy parking for tonight."

Nearly every year the festival has been held inclement weather has occurred during the period. Despite bad weather the affair has always attracted record crowds for the supper, dancing and games featured on the program.

Eisenhower Says Europe Has "Spirit To Resist" Russians

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today western Europe has "the spirit to resist" any Russian aggression and declared the United States must help build the necessary defense forces.

As to whether that job can be done, Eisenhower was supremely confident in an address to an informal joint meeting of the Senate and House in the Library of Congress auditorium.

He called on the lawmakers to have faith in America in this "decade of decision" and in the leadership this country can provide. He said this, in turn, will inspire the same kind of leadership among "our friends abroad."

Eisenhower asked this question: "Why then are we frightened of dictatorial governments?"

He said the one thing such governments have is unity of purpose, but it is "enforced by a gun in the kidneys."

Repeatedly, Eisenhower emphasized the proposed build up of forces in Europe is aimed at keeping the peace. He said the United States must devise a program for security that can be supported for the next 20 to 30 years.

The cost of peace is going to be high, he said, "but the cost of total war is the destruction of our civilization."

HIGHWAYS BAD DESPITE WORK OF PLOW CREWS

Adams county's state highway department workmen today continued their efforts to keep the highways free for traffic, but admitted that despite their best efforts the "going was tough" for drivers.

The hazardous highways kept numerous Adams county school children at home today. One school system, Fairfield jointure, closed entirely. Much of its student population comes from homes located in the South Mountain area and the bad weather made the mountain roads doubly dangerous.

Throughout the night the highway workers, who began their duties early Wednesday morning, continued on, pausing only for a few hours' rest between 10 o'clock Wednesday night and 4 o'clock this morning. At no time were all snowplows off the highways. The men sought their rest on a staggered schedule, leaving some plows on duty removing the five-inch accumulation of snow and slush throughout the night.

Frequent Traffic Snarls
In general, the department said, traffic was "getting through," although there was much slipping and frequent traffic snarls. Trucks were traveling through the mountains, but there were frequent "jackknifings" on the part of big trailer

J., and Granville Lewis, Hollywood, Md., arrested by borough police at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night on disorderly conduct charges, pleaded guilty late Wednesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John H. Coles and Lewis were charged by Mrs. Edna Zane, Breidenbach apartments, Carlisle street, with creating a disturbance and breaking furniture in the building. They were placed in jail following their arrest.

GROUNDHOG TO RECEIVE WINTRY RECEPTION HERE

No matter what the groundhog forecasts on Friday, Adams countians are expecting that winter weather will continue here for a while. That's what Weather Bureau forecasters say.

A freezing drizzle today added to the coating of ice that covered Adams county Wednesday evening after about five inches of snow had fallen. Sleet and freezing rain fell throughout most of the night and by 8:30 o'clock the total amount of water that had fallen in the last 24 hours stood at 1.35 inches.

Last night's low here and at Ardenstville was 15 degrees.

The wintry weather that marked the close of January left the month's average temperature 3.1 degrees above the normal level for January. Last month's average was 33.2 degrees and average is 30.1 degrees. The average maximum temperature here was 42 degrees and the average daily low was 24.4 degrees.

The warmest temperature last month was 66 degrees on the 19th and 20th when "heat" records were set. The low for the month was 14 degrees on January 9. On only one day last month did the mercury fall to reach the freezing point.

Precipitation in January fell chiefly in the form of rain and totaled only 2.90 inches as compared with a normal of 3.09 inches at Gettysburg.

At Ardenstville the January average temperature was 31.43 degrees which was 0.61 degrees above normal but 7.45 degrees below last January's mark. Rainfall at Ardenstville totaled 2.83 inches last month, or 0.09 inches below normal and 0.92 inches above last January. Ardenstville's precipitation for the last 24 hours was 1.42 inches, topping the local mark slightly.

TRY LAST CASE IN COURT TODAY

The Adams county court expected to complete hearing of trials in the January term this afternoon.

The last case is a trespass action brought by Doris Marie and Charles W. Glessner, Shippensburg, against Rudy Koser, Middletown, and R. W. Knox, Gettysburg R. D., as a result of an auto accident, near Caledonia, November 13, 1948.

Members of the jury hearing the case include Mrs. Robert Bell, Gettysburg R. 4; John Biesecker, Cashtown; William Chamberlain, Orrtanna; Harry Cleaver, East Berlin R. 1; J. E. Codori, Gettysburg; Ira Eisenhart, East Berlin; Maurice Feiser, East Berlin; Roy S. Fouk, Gettysburg R. 1; Paul Neiderer, Hanover R. 4; Raymond Oaster, Hanover R. 4; David Pitzer, Aspers, and Mrs. Goldie M. Starnier, Gettysburg R. 4.

A jury had been selected last Thursday to hear the Glessner-Koser-Knox case, but after the jury was selected the attorneys and court agreed to hold the case until the end of the term and that jury was discharged. Six members of the jury currently hearing the case, Biesecker, Chamberlain, Codori, Neiderer, Oaster, and Pitzer, were also members of the first jury drawn to hear the trial.

LICENSED TO WED

Tokyo, Feb. 1 (AP) — Allied forces in bitter hand-to-hand fighting crunched ahead as much as three miles today in western Korea, but a French-American combat team was trapped by superior Chinese forces in another sector of the warfront.

There were increasing signs that the eight-day-old United Nations limited offensive had slammed into the main Red defense line south of the Han river. The Han flows along the southeastern outskirts of Seoul.

A Tenth corps spokesman said the encircled regiment had been fighting off two enemy regiments for hours, in close combat. He would not predict its chances of breaking out of the trap.

Turks Forge Ahead

Bayonet-wielding Turkish troops made Thursday's biggest advance, through rugged and muddy hill country against an enemy "firmly dug in," a briefing officer said.

Forward elements of this force drove to a point less than 4,000 yards south of Anyang, on the road to Seoul. Anyang is about nine miles northwest of Suwon and 11 miles south of the former South Korean capital. A few miles eastward, an American tank-led task force jabbed 2½ miles into Wonchon, but then withdrew. Wonchon is three miles east of Suwon.

The battlefront now extends roughly along an east-west line five miles north of Suwon. At one point it is within nine miles of Seoul.

Near the junction of the western and central fronts French and American elements were reported earlier Thursday to have rammed into blazing Red counterattacks near Chipyong, 12 miles north of Yojiu.

For the third straight day Chinese artillery hit U.N. lines in what was described as a moderate barrage.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton said some Chinese abandoned their empty guns and fled before the American tank task force which swept into Wonchon. U.S. infantrymen captured 44 important hills Thursday, with Red resistance apparently waning in that region.

Allied troops were using deep foxholes dug and abandoned by the Reds. American pilots reported many Communists withdrawing across the Han river ahead of the Allied drive. However, it appeared later that at least some of these were not retreating but were hastening to the area of the counterattack around Chipyong.

Sees End Of War

While the battle raged, Korean President Syngman Rhee predicted, "the war is already coming to an end," presumably because the Chinese Communist soldier "is fighting without spirit. He has no purpose for which to sacrifice his life." Rhee flew to U.S. Tenth Corps headquarters to confer upon the corps commander, Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, the Korean order of military merit, with Silver Star.

In the west, resistance to the U.N. advance had sharpened. Puerto Ricans on the western flank moved forward at dawn after an all-night artillery bombardment of enemy lines, moving deeper into the main body of Chinese resistance massed near the Han.

Wildly leaping North Koreans launched their counterattack in the central-western front junction area at 5 a.m. This assault was made in the region immediately southwest of Sinchon, a point north of Yojiu reached by Allied forces Wednesday.

U.N. troops beat off this first attack, centered near Chipyong, but a new one started at 9 a.m. Associated Press Correspondent William C. Barnard said the Reds came over a mountain and hit Allied artillery from the rear.

Both sides rushed in reinforcements.

UN HAS GAINED STRENGTH BY BRANDING REDS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The United Nations has weathered its first life-or-death crisis by adopting the American sponsored resolution condemning Communist China as an aggressor for its armed intervention in Korea.

This action, of course, won't halt the Kremlin's efforts to communize the world. The revolution, of which Red China's invasion of Korea is merely a phase, will continue apace and is likely to be marked increasingly by armed conflict.

However, the stand by the United Nations is calculated to strengthen the hand of the seekers after a free world. It undoubtedly will give the United Nations troops in Korea fresh courage to carry out their stern assignment.

Choice Was Action Or Death

There is widespread belief among close observers that had the peace organization failed to take actions it would in all likelihood have meant its death.

Evasion of the issue, in the opinion of many, not only would have placed the brand of impotence on the U.N., but would in effect have been an invitation to aggressor nations to carry on without fear.

Such an appraisal of the situation is based on sound evidence. It was on this very point of failing to deal adequately with aggression that the League of Nations committed suicide.

Door Not Closed

Of course the United Nations did condemn Red North Korea as an aggressor last June for that country's invasion of its sister state of South Korea. The Chinese invasion, however, represents the first major aggression with which the peace organization has been faced.

The resolution of condemnation was fought tooth and nail in the Political committee of the General Assembly by the Soviet countries and the 12-nation Asian-Arab bloc which has headed by Foreign Minister Sir Benegal N. Rau of India. The Asian-Arab bloc, clinging to the idea that it was possible to negotiate with the Communists, called for a seven country conference to discuss peace.

As a matter of fact, the voting of aggression against Red China doesn't close the door to negotiations. On the contrary the U.N. not only is willing to join in negotiations but actually is making provisions for such a possibility.

trucks, holding up traffic until the trailer-trailers could get straightened out and underway once again. Wednesday's snow was followed by sleet and then rain and the 16 snow plows and two graders found it frequently impossible to move the heavy ice and thus the highways are presenting an appearance of being partly cleared and partly covered with ice.

The situation was the same throughout the northeastern United States the Associated Press reported.

More "Weather" Coming

It also added that there was a forecast of colder weather, more snow and sleet listed for today and tonight. Much colder weather was scheduled for Friday by the weatherman.

To the fire inches of snow in Adams county the weatherman said nature plans to add a few more inches tonight. Buses were running behind schedule today and there were hundreds of "near accidents" as well as many actual collisions between vehicles skidding on the roads.

In Gettysburg, borough highway employees, under the direction of Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, started work removing the snow in Lincoln Square at 6 o'clock Wednesday night and continued all night.

Numerous automobiles left parked at the curbsides were towed out of the way by highway department trucks so that plows and the snow-loader could work.

The department used its small tractor with plow attached, the new scraper-loader, the snowplow and several trucks. State highway plows aided.

Workmen will continue the removal of the snow tonight.

NATIONAL LOOP WILL OBSERVE 75TH BIRTHDAY

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—The National league celebrates its 75th anniversary tomorrow in the very room in which the organization went into business in 1876, at the Broadway Central hotel in New York.

Appropriate ceremonies will mark the event what will set in motion a string of celebrations in each of the league's eight cities during the season. Starting tomorrow and continuing through three days and nights, 20 living hall of famers whom league president Ford Frick has invited to the open house will be entertained in various ways. In addition, some 3,000 guests have been invited.

From all parts of the country have come those baseball immortals who have earned their place in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y. This parade of greats includes Cy Young, the only pitcher to win 500 games in the majors; Charles (Kid) Nichols, another pitcher who won 30 or more games for seven consecutive years and at least 20 for ten straight seasons; Ed Walsh, winner of 40 games in 1908; Ty Cobb, American league batting champion for 12 years and holder of countless records; Tris Speaker, the greatest centerfielder of his era; Rogers Hornsby, who batted three times over .400; Eddie Collins and Charles Gehringer, two great second basemen.

Greats To Attend
Also George Sisler, brilliant first baseman who collected 257 hits in 1920 and hit 420 two years later; Carl Hubbell, who pitched 46½ consecutive scoreless innings; Fred Clarke, a great outfielder for 22 years; Pie Traynor, generally rated the greatest of modern third basemen; and Hugh Duffy, holder of the highest batting average of any player, .438 in 1894.

In addition to these greats, Arlie Latham, who will be 92 years old next month, will be one of the participants. Latham, oldest living big league player, was a frequent visitor to the Broadway Central hotel when Following tonight's tilt the Bullets meet the in and out Muhlenberg outfit at Allentown Saturday evening.

IKE WILLIAMS GETS EASY WIN OVER CARDELL

Detroit, Feb. 1 (AP)—Lightweight Champ Ike Williams, a busy little bee except where title fights are concerned, tucked a small purse of $2,000 in his wallet today as a reminder of his one-sided bout with young Vic Cardell last night.

A small turnout of 2,603 fans—held down by a heavy snowstorm—paid a gross gate of only $4,464.39 at Olympia stadium to see the champ batter Cardell almost at will for a ninth round TKO.

Cardell, his left eye closed and his right eye cut, was unable to answer the bell for the ninth in the scheduled 10-round bout.

Surprisingly enough, it was the vanquished Cardell who got the plaudits of the crowd which saw him take everything Williams could throw.

Williams sulking since the National Boxing association threatened Saturday to take his title away if he doesn't defend it by March 31, took out some of his wrath on the luckless Cardell.

The 23-year-old Connecticut fighter, who had a two-pound advantage at 145, was a 4-1 underdog. Betting was 3-1 that he would not last five rounds.

Fools "Wise" Boys
Cardell fooled the "wise money" boys, however. He survived a blistering attack that left both eyes damaged, his nose reddened and his stomach sore.

On the verge of a knockout several times, Cardell fought back gamely. He never was knocked off his feet.

Williams, who has been barnstorming around the country fighting mostly welterweights, gained little prestige. He fought only when he had to.

Cardell had his best time in the fifth round which he won on the card of referee Morris Sherman.

Cardell got $1,560 and a large collection of bruises for his night's work—$1,000 of the purse coming from TV rights.

Williams netted a like amount from TV and $1,080 as his cut of the small gate.

BILL MURRAY IS CHOSEN AS DUKE MENTOR

Durham, N. C., Feb. 1 (AP)—William D. (Bill) Murray, athletic director and football coach at Delaware, has been named football coach at Duke.

The former Duke star succeeds Wallace Wade, who resigned to become the first commissioner of the Southern conference.

Murray's appointment was announced yesterday by Duke president Hollis Edens.

Murray was named unanimously by the Duke athletic council. Charles E. Jordan, chairman of the council, said Murray's name had been in first or second place on the committee's list throughout its search for a new coach.

That search began with Wade's resignation and ended after conferences with almost a score of coaches and screening of more than 50 applications.

Athletic director Eddie Cameron, who turned down the coaching job, said Murray signed a three-year contract at an undisclosed salary. Murray wasn't one of the applicants for the job, Cameron added.

Murray told reporters: "I leave a wonderful job and a wonderful place. Duke is the only place I would have come—from where I'm leaving."

Murray indicated he will use the single wing and variations of the T-formation as he did at Delaware. Basically, that was the pattern of the Duke attack last season.

Murray, now 42, was one of Duke's first all-southern selections in 1939. His Delaware teams of 1941, 1942 and 1946 were undefeated. The 1941-42 seasons contributed to a record of 32 games without defeat.

PHILLIES SIGN BEN TOMPKINS, TEXAS U. STAR

Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (AP)—Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, looked back with no regrets today at the spending of over $300,000 in bonus money for promising ball players, including some $50,000 for Ben Tompkins of the University of Texas.

Tompkins, better known for his football feats than his baseball prowess, yesterday joined such famous Phillies bonus players as Curt Simmons, Robin Roberts, Stan Lopata, Richie Ashburn and Bob Miller.

Carpenter said Tompkins, a 21-year old junior at the university, will leave school to join the Phillies. An infielder, Tompkins will be sent to the Class B Interstate league.

The youthful Phil owner declined to disclose the exact sum for which Tompkins signed. An informed source, however, said the Texas quarterback was paid a figure "slightly less than that paid Simmons."

Simmons, now in the army, received $65,000 when he stepped out of Egypt, Pa., high school into organized baseball.

Tompkins likewise may be in uniform soon.

In Dallas, Tex., Phil's scout Hap Morse, who signed the Texas star, said Tompkins called in scouts of several clubs and talked contract.

"I don't want anybody to start saying we raided the campus," Morse said.

Confirming Morse's statement, Bibb Falk, University of Texas base-

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—Danny Littler, who'll serve as a coach for Cincinnati this season, has entered George Barr's umpire school just to learn a little more about baseball from all angles. . . That ought to be a "must" for any player with managerial aspirations and isn't a bad idea for any ball player. . . Hurdler Dick Attlesley's strongest competition at the Pan American games may come from Alberto Triulzi, Argentine star now a student at Santa Barbara (Calif.) college. . . The Southeastern conference may be the first to make freshmen eligible for college football next fall. . . The York (Pa.) LAST WORD?
Buck Bailey, Washington State college baseball coach, figures his colleagues finally have made some progress in their efforts to reach a no-tampering agreement with professional baseball. . . "First they told us our request wasn't on the agenda," Buck explains. "The next year they told us it had been tabled. A year later they said they just hadn't got around to deciding. . . But this year we finally got an answer. The Majors said 'no.'"

The sum reported to have been paid Tompkins for signing is second only to the amount paid Simmons and exceeds by $10,000 the $40,000 Carpenter paid to get Tom Casagrande, Fordham university outfielder, after the 1950 season.

Roberts, ace of the mound staff, received $25,000 for putting his name on the dotted line after leaving Michigan State campus.

Stan Holmg, another Texas product, is said to have received $20,000 and Jack Mayo, Notre Dame alum, about $15,000.

Lopata, Ashburn and Miller are generally believed to have signed for between $10,000 and $15,000 each. Lopata and Ashburn became Phils before the bonus rule was put into effect.

FROSH CAGERS LOSE FIRST TILT

Johnny Yovicsin's Gettysburg college freshman basketball team suffered its first loss after four straight victories Wednesday afternoon when the Navy Plebes scored a 69-56 decision at Annapolis.

The Plebes were given a merry battle for three periods by the Little Bullets, the locals leading 43-32 going into the last period.

In the last quarter the Plebes' height and big playing court took effect. Jack Keller went out via personal fouls for the Bullets in the first minute of the last period.

Johnny Habeeb and Joe Lang sparked the Gettysburg attack.

On Saturday the Bullet freshmen met Mercersburg academy in a twin bill at Mercersburg.

GHS Opens Second Half Race With Carlisle Here Friday

A determined band of Gettysburg high cagers, bent on snapping a six-game losing streak, will take the floor against Carlisle high here Friday evening as the teams open their second half schedule in the South Penn league.

The Warriors, who have won but three of 13 games this season, must do an about-face if they are to escape one of the worst seasons in many years. Their current losing streak is the longest in several campaigns.

Jim Skinner, center, is expected to be ready for full time duty on Friday. Skinner saw some action against Delone on Tuesday after having been forced out due to an ankle injury on January 19.

Gettysburg and Carlisle finished their first half league campaigns with identical records of one win against six losses which placed them in a tie for the cellar position. Both are anxious to get off on the right foot in the second half to escape a similar fate.

Carlisle Previous Winner
Carlisle nosed out the Warriors 40-38 in the first meeting at Carlisle and is confident of repeating. Still is the leading scorer for Carlisle in league play, having tallied 87 points in the first half. McOy, Washington, Callaman and Keck finished the first half scoring in that order for the visitors.

The Warrior reserves, also in the throes of a slump, four straight defeats, will be out to avenge a 35-33 defeat at Carlisle when the scrubs clash in the preliminary game at 6:45 o'clock.

Other South Penn league games listed for Friday are Hershey at

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Rupp Relates Activities of Elks in War: An inspiring address in which he presented a vivid word picture of the achievements of the order, particularly those during and since the world war, was given by Grand Exalted Ruler Lawrence H. Rupp, of Allentown, head of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in America, at a banquet at the Blue Parrot tea room, Chambersburg street, Monday evening.

The grand exalted ruler, the first to visit the Gettysburg lodge since it was founded in 1907, was greeted by a capacity crowd of 160 persons, including guests from other lodges.

C. R. Wolff, exalted ruler of Gettysburg lodge, was toastmaster.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the banquet comprised C. C. Hutton, Joseph E. Codori and J. A. Holtzworth.

Review College League's Past: The twentieth birthday anniversary of the Gettysburg chapter of the Woman's League of Gettysburg college was celebrated at the regular meeting of the chapter held Tuesday afternoon in Trinity Reformed church.

A short outline of the early history of the league was given by Dr. S. G. Hefelbower, who showed that the women's work for the college began in 1848 when they assisted the boys with a bazaar which they held for the purpose of raising funds.

Mrs. Charles Sanders gave a resume of the work done by the local chapter during the past twenty years.

At the conclusion of her talk Mrs. Sanders called the roll of the charter members receiving responses from Mrs. H. B. Bender, Mrs. Edward Bender, Mrs. J. I. Burgoon, Mrs. Mark K. Eckert, Miss Kate Gilbert, Mrs. J. E. Musselman, Mrs. Harry Picking, Mrs. Charles Sanders, Mrs. George D. Stahley, Mrs. C. B. Stover and Mrs. E. A. Weaver.

The hostesses for the affair were Mrs. J. I. Burgoon, Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, Mrs. Jesse Boughton, Miss Kate Gilbert, Mrs. John Kendelhart, Mrs. Wilbur McReynolds, Mrs. J. E. Musselman, Miss Annie O'Neal, Mrs. George D. Stahley and Mrs. T. J. Winebrenner.

Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, president, presided.

Says Meeting Is Successful: So successful was the conference of ministers of rural and village churches at the Lutheran theological seminary, Thursday, that the Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, at whose suggestion more than 200 members of six synods gathered here, said at the close of the session that the conference would probably be made an annual affair.

Merchants Are Pleased with Dollar Day Sale: The first dollar-day sale of more than 44 Gettysburg merchants, held January 31, was pronounced the most successful dollar-day event ever held since the inception of this feature sales event.

Bigler Band Concert Friday: The first official public appearance in concert of the Biglerville high school band will be made Friday evening, February 6, in the school auditorium, according to announcement from Professor C. I. Raffensperger.

The Biglerville high school band was organized last November and since that time has been under the direction of Charles L. Yost, music supervisor. The band comprises 46 pieces.

A pretentious concert of fourteen numbers has been arranged for this Friday evening.

The officers of the band are: Albert Ehbert, president; Harold Heiges, vice president; Gladys Denter, secretary, and Evelyn Gindlesperger, treasurer.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
EXERCISE THOSE RESOLUTIONS

Used things are the most interesting. They have a story to tell, either of failure or success, and often the failure story is the most dramatic, stirring, and inspiring.

The used book may show great wear, and might look insignificant upon a second-hand book shelf, but if it had stirred a nation and been read by many a one whose life it had inspired, it would hold a value far beyond all appearances. And how much more significant if the author had inscribed, and presented it, to another worthy author!

Even an idea is of no value unless it is put to use. It's the same with resolutions. If they are not exercised and put to work, of what value are they? A good resolution should be given air—exercised each day, until it has accomplished its purpose in giving another prop to character and a more useful life.

The greatest of musicians devote themselves to constant exercise that they may keep in top form. It is the same with the athlete. Let him neglect that essential exercise ever so little and his chances for triumph in a crucial contest are that much lessened. Now that the New Year is well under way, take care that you continue to exercise those resolutions of yours, that they may grow to the maturity for which they were created.

All first attempts, toward some useful end, present a certain crudeness. That is natural and expected. But mark the improvement as continual exercise puts a new face upon those efforts! It is often but a step at a time, and even no more than an inch at a time—but it's progress. There is nothing quite so important as a resolute mind.

In that great chapter on "Habit," by William James, he tells his reader that he should never allow an exception to occur, in the formation of a new habit to replace an old one. How often you hear a person remark that "this one won't count." But it does count. It pushes one back instead of forward. Stick to the exercise of those resolutions of yours!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Magic Of The Day"

PAY RAISE FOR COAL PITS GOES IN FORCE TODAY

By MAX HALL

Washington, Feb. (AP)—A pay raise in the coal pits went into effect today without interference from the government, and eventually the money will show up on consumers' coal bills.

Price Director Michael V. DiSalle announced that new ceiling prices on coal would be set today or tomorrow and would "probably reflect increased costs to the operators as a result of the wage increase."

Thus the government cracked open its January 25 temporary wage-price freeze for the first time. Other cracks are certain.

And thus a long period without coal strikes seemed to be assured, and the big shadow of John L. Lewis faded from the wall in the conference room of the Wage Stabilization board.

Issues Exemptions
This board, headed by Cyrus S. Ching, took several steps yesterday. It exempted state, county and municipal employees from the wage freeze, turning them over to their governing bodies, which, the board said, are expected to conform to general federal wage policies.

In another regulation, the board gave a blanket O. K. to all wage and salary increases due to take effect before midnight February 9, provided they were "formally determined and communicated to the employees" before the Jan. 25 freeze date.

This permitted an undetermined number of increases to groups or individuals in that class.

By far the most important was the raise of $1.60 a day for nearly 400,000 soft coal miners and about 75,000 anthracite miners.

Anthracite Raise Okay
At first it wasn't clear whether the anthracite raise had been approved, because the anthracite agreement was not signed until January 26. But last night W. Willard Wirtz, the board's executive director, announced that the raise was all right because "there was in every substantial way a meeting of the minds" on January 24, and the January 26 signing was only a formality.

Government officials and mine operators breathed easy again.

President Lewis of the United Mine Workers had not proclaimed a strike or made threats of strikes. But no one had forgotten how Lewis called four strikes in 1943, a war year, after the War Labor board refused to approve his wage demands.

The wage board's regulation on last-minute wage increases was adopted by a 6-3 vote.

The three industry members voted "no," and protested that the action moves the January 25 freeze date forward for some employees who "meet a particular formal requirement," leaving out others who may be equally deserving.

The size of the coal price increases was not told in advance. DiSalle said this matter was under consideration. Soft coal operators have estimated that the higher wages would add about 25 to 50 cents a ton to their costs, depending on the grade of coal and the locality.

State Industrial Activity Runs High

State College, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—Industrial activity in Pennsylvania during December reached the highest level on record for that month, a survey disclosed today.

The Pennsylvania State College Bureau of Business research reported the activity index stood at 210, a gain of 31 points over December, 1949. However, the survey showed the activity was a point lower than November.

Activity for 1950 averaged 199, a new high and an increase of 12 per cent over that of the previous year.

The index uses the years 1935-39 as 100 and is based on industrial power sales, employee hours in manufacturing, and coal production.

16 Killed When Gangway Collapses

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Feb. 1 (AP)—Sixteen shipyard workers were killed and 48 others injured yesterday when a ship's gangway collapsed. It was the worst shipyard disaster in Belfast history.

The men were crowding ashore after working on the Argentine ship Juan Peron, being equipped as a whale factory ship. The wooden gangway parted with a loud crack hurling them 50 feet. Many of the injured suffered broken legs.

The speed of light was first measured by observations of the moons of Jupiter which were found to go into eclipse later or earlier according to whether Jupiter was close to or far from the earth.

COOPERATIVE MISSIONARY PLAN SET UP

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—The annual convention of the National Lutheran church has drawn up a co-operative Latin-American missionary program, described as the broadest such united effort of its nature by American Lutherans.

The program, drafted yesterday, involves missions activity in Mexico and Central and South America.

Dr. Paul C. Empe, executive director of the convention council, said the program "marks a very important step forward in Lutheran co-operation."

The plan would be the first joint foreign mission venture ever undertaken by the eight Lutheran bodies represented in the convention council.

A starting "core budget" of $51,250 was set for the program, which would start functioning next October.

Drawn up in talks among the council's member bodies, the mission program still is subject to their final approval.

At a dinner meeting last night council delegates heard the Rev. Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, associate general secretary of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., a new Protestant and Eastern Orthodox group including 29 denominations and representing nearly 32,000,000 members.

FELLOWSHIP
EVENT IS HELD

Fifty were present at the Sunday school fellowship night of Centenary Methodist church on Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room of the church. The pastor, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, was chairman for the evening. The program opened with a song service, with Chester S. Byers as leader. Several songs suitable to the age of the group singing them were sung. Vocal solos were sung by Barbara Gibson, who sang, "I Love You Truly" and Chester S. Byers, who sang, "Because." A humorous reading, "Life Gets Tee-jus, Don't It?", was given by William Simons.

The religious sound film, "A Boy and His Prayer," was shown by Elmer E. Furlow, who also showed several cartoons from his own collection. The films, "I Love to Tell The Story" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul," telling the story of these hymns, were also shown by Mr. Furlow. Following the showing of these two films the group sang the hymns. A piano solo, "In The Good Old Summer Time," was played by June Rime.

A social hour was enjoyed, at which time games were played and contests held in charge of Mrs. Chester S. Byers. A contest entitled, "Have A Heart," in which everyone drew a paper heart from the Valentine box and then acted according to the inscription on the heart, was held and a "heart hunt" was conducted for the children. Other games in keeping with the Valentine season were played. Refreshments were served to the group. The Tuesday evening program was arranged by the teachers of the Sunday school, with the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Simons, as chairman.

Covered Dish Supper Held
A covered dish supper was held in connection with the monthly meeting of the Parents and Teachers of the Children's departments of the Sunday school of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church in the social hall of the church on Tuesday evening. The meeting opened with group singing led by the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham. A piano solo was played by Miss Phyllis Higinbotham. The Rev. Mr. Reynolds then showed a film strip from the board of Christian Education, dealing with Sunday school work to the group of 35 in attendance.

The business session was held with Mrs. Wilbur A. Bankert, president, in charge. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Helen Jacobs. The group discussed plans for the dedication service which will be held on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The new curtains and drapes which have been installed throughout the various Sunday school rooms of the church will be dedicated at a combined Sunday school and morning worship at 10 o'clock. The Sunday school session will open at 9:30 a.m. and one-half hour later the group present will go to the church sanctuary. A contribution of $5 was voted to the infantile paralysis fund. The guess package for the evening was presented by Mrs. Gertrude Crouse and received by Mrs. John Stambaugh. The next parents' and teachers' meeting will be held, Monday, March 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the social hall of the church. The hostesses for this meeting are Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham and Mrs. George C. Conover.

The Littlestown Girl Scout Troop committee and members of the program committee met Tuesday evening at the fire engine house to make plans for the annual birthday party to celebrate the organization of the local Girl Scouts on Monday, March 12. The pageant, "Girl Scouts Also Serve," will be given including tableaux presenting the work being done by the Girl Scouts in the community. All mothers, fathers and guests of the scouts will be invited to attend the party. All of the local troops were represented at the meeting. Those present were Mrs. Carroll Arter, chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Leonard Kerschner, Mrs. LeRoy Helwig, Mrs. Harold Angstead, Mrs. Malchom Heiser, Mrs. Charles H. Fissel and Mrs. Mary Rita Redding.

The Littlestown Men's chorus will rehearse this evening at 9 o'clock in the Adult Sunday school room of St. Paul's Lutheran church, as announced by director, L. Robert Snyder.

Funeral services for Martin H. Miller, 79, a former resident of Littlestown, recently a lodger at the home of Mrs. William Matthews of 144 North street, Hanover, who died Saturday at 10:30, at the Hanover hospital, where he had been a patient since Friday, were conducted on Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the J. W. Little and Son funeral home, Littlestown. Death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage, according to York county coroner, Lester J. Sell. The Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, Littlestown, officiated. Interment was in St. Luke's Union church cemetery, near White Hall. The pallbearers were four nephews, Earl Keith, Richard Keith, Irvin Miller and Ivan Miller.

Stan Musial, of the St. Louis Cardinals, set a new National league record last season when he scored 105 times. It was his seventh straight campaign as a scorer of more than 100 runs.

News Of Special Interest To The Residents Of Emmitsburg And Vicinity

ST. JOSEPH'S PTA OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

Approximately 75 parents and guests attended the annual covered dish social of the PTA of St. Joseph's high school which was held in celebration of the fourth anniversary of the association in the school auditorium Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A short meeting preceded the social at which the minutes of the January 10 meeting were read and the treasurer's report was given. The principal gave a report on the progress of the showers which are to be placed in the school for the athletic department.

The president appointed the following committee to sponsor the annual PTA card party, date to be announced later: Mrs. Harry Scott, Mrs. Austin Joy, Mrs. John Law, Mrs. John Orndorff, Mrs. Charles Arnold, Mrs. George Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kane, Mrs. Hugh Rocks, Mrs. James Dukehart, Mrs. Thomas Frior and Mrs. Claude O'Toole.

The next regular monthly meeting will be held on March 12 at 7:30 p.m. Following the meeting the social was held. Seated at the speakers' table were the president and his wife, Prof. and Mrs. William Sternbink; Rev. Fr. Francis Dodd, the guest speaker; Rev. Fr. Francis Stauble, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church; Rev. Fr. Michael O'Brien, assistant pastor; Rev. Fr. Stanley Scarff, pastor of St. Anthony's Shrine; Mrs. Marie Rosensteel, secretary of the association, and Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Rodgers. Mrs. Rodgers is treasurer.

Traces School's Growth
Prof. Sternbink, acting as toastmaster, introduced Father Dodd, who spoke on the planning, building and the success of St. Joseph's high school. Its success, Father Dodd said, was due to the cooperation of the Sisters, the parents and the students. A contest was held during the evening to determine which class had the most parents attending the social. The junior class won with a score of 20. A gift from the PTA was given the Juniors. The closing prayer for the evening was given by Father Dodd, after which a visiting hour was held. The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. Guy Baker, chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Orndorff and Mrs. Clarence Wachter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dern and daughter, Dorothy, Taneytown; Miss Betty Grimes and Mrs. Carrie Fuss.

WGCT Program On Emmitsburg

This evening from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock, WGCT will broadcast shopping news from the Emmitsburg community interspersed with selections of popular and light classical music. The Emmitsburg Shopping News feature on WGCT is a regular bi-weekly event at the Gettysburg radio station.

Long were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shafer and daughters, of Shookstown, Md. Mrs. Shafer was the former Miss Louise Grimes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes.

Farewell Dinner Party
A farewell dinner was given on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sanders for their daughter, Patricia, who entered the novitiate of the Sisters of Charity on Monday, at St. Joseph's college. Miss Sanders is a graduate of St. Joseph's high school, class of '49, and attended St. Joseph's college for a year and a half. Guests at the dinner were Miss Mary Rider, James, Allen and Marianne Sanders, all of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Owens Sanders and son, Tony, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Paul Freshman and daughter, Beatrice, of Thurmont.

Miss Betty Grimes, a nurse at the Frederick Memorial hospital, spent the week-end with friends at Leesburg, Va. She also spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes the first of the week.

Master Wilmer Thomas Shank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon B. Shank, of Emmitsburg R. 3, was given a party by his parents and his brothers and sisters in observance of his sixteenth birthday, Monday. There was a birthday dinner with a cake. Among guests were his aunt, Mrs. Harry McNair and his cousins, Carolyn McNair and Martha Horner. The only disappointment in the celebration was that Master Wilmer had scarlatina and was not permitted to see his many friends.

Local Court Teams Divide Two Games

The Emmitsburg high basketball teams won and lost to the Brunswick varsities at home Tuesday afternoon. The Emmitsburg boys lost to the Railroaders 40-57, but the girls took a 30-23 victory from the Brunswick girls.

Damuth starred again for the locals with his nine goals and two fouls, totaling 20 points, making him the top scorer for both teams. In the girls' game, Carrie Hahn was tops with her total of 17 points with six goals and five fouls. Hahn was top scorer for both girls' teams. Even though the locals are trailing in the county league, both the boys and the girls teams are playing a fine game and always remain a constant threat to their opponents.

PTA TO MEET
The Frederick county PTA of which the local PTA is a unit member held its January meeting at the Park Way school in Frederick city Monday night. Seventeen city and county school units were represented. State Trooper W. W. Corbin, president, was in charge. It was announced at the meeting that the county commissioners have budgeted money for the employment of a professional transportation superintendent of school buses in the near future. The next meeting of the county council will be held in Emmitsburg March 12 at 7:45 p.m.

Of his 11 defeats last season, Bob Feller, of the Cleveland Indians, lost four by one run. He went the route in all four.

KERRIGAN TELLS ABOUT MEXICAN ARCHEOLOGY IN LETTER TO TIMES

Joseph W. Kerrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan, East Main street, Emmitsburg, is now a second year social science student at Mexico City college, Mexico. A graduate of Emmitsburg high school, he entered the Marine corps after his graduation from high school in July, 1943. He attended radar school at Camp Le Jeune, New River, N. C., and later was an instructor in radar. He was discharged as a staff sergeant in June, 1945.

From Mexico, Kerrigan wrote descriptions of various scenes in that country, including descriptions of the ruins of the brilliant, but unknown civilizations that preceded the Indians who were conquered by the Spanish early in Mexico's history.

He reported having "more than usual transportation difficulties, since my car has been stolen," and told of architecture of the Teotihuacan culture and other historical sites in the Valley of Mexico including the "Desierto de los Leones," headquarters of the Spanish inquisition, with its dungeons, water-drip tortures and "acoustical trickery to convince the Indians that they were hearing supernatural voices."

Pyramids Of Sun, Moon

He wrote for The Gettysburg Times an interesting article on the Teotihuacan area in Mexico with its great pyramids of the Sun and Moon and the city of Teotihuacan, which is the Nahuatl word for "the place where men are made into Gods."

"Situated to the northeast of the Valley of Mexico, Teotihuacan is approximately 60 kilometers from Mexico City and is now easily accessible by automobile, train or bus."

"Teotihuacan, in the Nahuatl language, which is the Indian tongue still spoken in many parts of Mexico, means 'the place where men are made into Gods.'"

"However, no one knows who built the pyramids and ciudadela, or how old they are. The culture which built them had disappeared before the coming of the Spaniards. Archaeologists can only guess at the reasons for its disappearance, and the descendants of the civilization which built the Great Pyramid of the Sun still work in its shadow, but remember nothing of their former greatness."

He described the "Avenue of the Dead," more than two miles long and 130 feet wide along which are the pyramids, temples and monuments erected by the unknown civilization. Highest of the monuments is the pyramid of the sun which is 200 feet to its top.

"It is supposed," Kerrigan wrote,

11 MEN STAGE MASS BREAK AT STATE HOSPITAL

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 1 (AP) — Eleven "potentially dangerous" men staged a mass break from the criminal ward of the state mental hospital last night and fled into the snow-covered countryside.

Police threw up roadblocks and issued a general alarm. Residents of the area pulled their shades and locked their windows.

The fugitives, all charged with felonies, and a mental patient—later recaptured—overpowered four attendants in their break.

Meanwhile, another drama was being enacted on the same hospital grounds. Crews of workmen fought to prevent collapse of the snow-covered roof of a building housing 350 women and children. There is no place to move these patients, Dr. Hayden H. Donahue, of the hospital staff said, because of overcrowded conditions.

One Has Gun

None of the escaping men was dressed adequately for the freezing weather and snowstorm they met on the outside. All were bare-headed. At least one had a gun.

Three of the group fled afoot. The nine others apparently sped away in a car belonging to one of the guards they beat in a 15-minute struggle on the third floor of the criminal ward.

The mental patient, one of the three who fled on foot, was picked up three hours later in a Little Rock bus station. He was identified as Carl Merriman, a former prize fighter.

In the fight to prevent collapse of the roof housing the women and children, one group of workmen feverishly shoveled off the still-falling snow and another hammered and sawed through the night to brace up the roof. James A. Bain, the state Labor department's safety engineer, estimated there was between 200 and 300 tons of ice and snow on the flat roof when the emergency work began.

RADIO

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—Indications already are becoming apparent that defense requirements may have some reaction on radio and TV program schedules in the form of sponsorship changes brought about by defense shortages or related developments.

So far three CBS sponsors have made known that they either were withdrawing or would not come on the air. One of these, Reddi-Wip, Inc., which has been presenting the recorded Arthur Godfrey digest on Sunday afternoons, will close with this week's program because of reported difficulties in obtaining metal used in their containers.

Another, Household Finance Corp., which has the TV Version of People's platform, also Sunday afternoons, is concluding on February 25, due, it was explained, to recently imposed restrictions on credit. The platform

GI INSURANCE POLICIES WILL PAY DIVIDEND

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP) — The Veterans administration (VA) said today it will distribute a $685,000,000 life insurance dividend this year, starting in April.

The announcement of the dividend's size has long been awaited by World War II veterans, holders of the 8,000,000 National Service policies, who are eligible for checks.

VA said the payments will occur throughout the year on the policy anniversary dates.

Formula Not Complete

The formula for paying the dividend has not yet been completed. The amount of each dividend will vary according to the number of months the policy was in force, the plan of insurance, the face value of the policy, and the age of the holder at the time it became effective.

"Studies on rates still are being made," VA said.

However, the average payment figures out to about $85, compared with an average of $175 for the first special dividend, on which VA started payments in January 1950.

The initial dividend totaled $2,800,000,000, about four times the forthcoming payment. However, it applied to more than 16,000,000 holder.

policies, twice as many as are involved in this year's melon-splitting.

Probably The Last

The initial dividend covered the period from the start of the National Service life insurance program, in October, 1940, through the 1948 anniversary dates. The second dividend will be for three years, from 1948 through the 1951 anniversary.

It probably will also be the last special dividend, VA said. Hereafter, when there is a surplus in the insurance fund, dividends will be paid annually — and automatically. The dividends represent the surplus over amounts needed to pay claims and maintain reserves.

The new dividend applies to policies held in force for at least three months during the period from 1948 to 1951. It applies to so-called term policies and to those converted to permanent plans, including those which have lapsed or were terminated by the death of the policyholder.

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP) — The Pennsylvania roadside council was told today "the state's multi-million dollar highway improvement program remains at the tender mercies of uncontrolled commercial developments."

Mrs. Cyril G. Fox, council president, made the statement in a speech before the council's annual meeting.

Motorists' lives are endangered on commonwealth roads, Mrs. Fox added, by "highway pollution" in the form of signs and billboards.

Philadelphia Philie pitchers allowed 624 runs last season, the lowest permitted in the National league.

3RD ATOM BLAST IN WEEK LIGHTS NEVADA'S SKIES

Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 1 (AP) — The third atomic blast in a week lit up the pre-dawn sky northwest of here today. One witness described it as "like a huge flash gun" which photographers use.

An atomic energy spokesman confirmed that it was the third atomic test at the sprawling 5,000-square-mile test range near here.

This makes it No. 12 in the list of atomic explosions set off since the first at Alamogordo, N. M., July 16, 1945.

No Details Given

The AEC spokesman would give no details of what sort of test took place. There has been much speculation that the government is testing a variety of atomic weapons besides the bombs which hit Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945 and brought the Japanese war to an end.

Most witnesses agreed that the flash today was about equal to Saturday's, but not so strong as Sunday's.

There was little excitement along the brightly-lit streets where gambling runs wide open all night.

At one spot, a man ran into the street crying, "It's the A-bomb."

Business As Usual

But otherwise business went on much as usual.

Police said that a half-hour after the blast they had received no calls from citizens, already taking this sort of thing in stride. Many people said they felt the vibration but did not see the flash.

A hotel employee said Sunday's detonation blew in a pair of swinging doors from the street, but today's did not.

Seen 300 Miles Away

One man described it as "more of a ricocheting roar than a blast."

Mummasburg

Mummasburg—Mr. and Mrs. William Harmon and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hockenberry, of Waynesboro, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon and Mrs. Nellie Leatherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Steinour have moved from the Mrs. Florence Wilson house to the house they recently purchased near Harney, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Wilson and family have moved into the part vacated by the Steinours and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Warner are moving in the near future from the Warren Motter property to the part vacated by the Wilsons.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cullison, Jr., and family were Staff Sergeant James Kauffman, of Mitchell Field, New York, Mrs. Bessie Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. George Lawyer and children, Susie, Donald and Mark, all of Hanover. Staff Sergeant Kauffman has been transferred from Mitchell Field to a training camp in Georgia. He has enlisted for three more years.

FACTS ABOUT ORCHARD MULCHING

Welcome news for apple growers comes from preliminary experiments with hay mulches conducted at the Beltsville (Maryland) Experimental Farm. According to announcements, trees mulched for two years with nitrogen-fed orchard grass hay show remarkable vigor, increased growth, and heavy sets of fruit.

Three groups of trees were used in the test—one, as mentioned here, mulched with hay fed liberally with nitrogenous fertilizer, the second mulched with wheat straw, the third left unmulched. Of course, the straw-mulched trees show more vigor than the unmulched trees, but the news of practical worth is found in the fact that hay-mulching far outdistances straw mulching in invigorating the trees.

In this experiment, begun in 1948, 18-year-old apple trees were mulched in early June with 100 pounds of air-cured hay cut from the orchard after having been fertilized during its growth with ammonium nitrate at the rate of 300 pounds per acre. The second year an additional 200 pounds of similar quality hay per tree was applied. No other nutrients were supplied.

Examination of feeder roots show that they are feeding in the richer surface soil and directly on the decomposing mulch. Of course, the major benefits perhaps come from the more liberal supply of moisture kept available during the critical weeks of late summer when rainfall is seldom adequate to meet the needs of fruit trees and when fruit growth demands a maximum of moisture.

Basis for this assumption is revealed wherever irrigation has been tried in apple orchards. Experience on several Virginia farms in the Shenandoah Valley region amply supports the theory that in normal years surface irrigation will more than pay for the entire installation and operation in a single season. There are no doubts—apple trees need more moisture than falls as rain from mid-June until harvest time.

It is certain that mulching provides most of this additional moisture, as is shown by the invigorated growth of the straw-mulched trees in the Beltsville test. But that benefits are possible from use of nitrogen-fed hay, not only to reduce annual fertilization expenses and conserve soil moisture, is now demonstrated.

The experiments were conducted with trees growing on poorly drained soils. This fact indicates that the soil does not retain moisture, as poor drainage, coarseness, and lack of organic matter are among the most common causes of failure to retain moisture. And the mulch method tends to correct all three defects—by lowering the water level, making coarse soil more mellow, and replenishing the organic matter content.

Owners of but a few apple trees for home use should try this inexpensive method. In the absence of nitrogen-fed hay, any waste vegetation may be employed with at least nominal benefits. In the meantime orchard grass should be grown for this purpose, either between the tree rows or in a separate field, surface dressed with ammonium nitrate during its growing season. One or more representative trees should be left unmulched for comparison purposes.

PLANT SHADE TREES SOON

Deciduous shade trees (those that shed their leaves in the fall) may be planted or moved any time during their dormant period, preferably in late fall or during mild weather in late winter. Emphasis should be kept on the importance of getting them into their new locations before growth starts, not that failure would result from later planting, but that greater success rewards dormant planting.

With the "when" thus clarified, prospective growers next encounter four vital shade tree questions—Why? Where? How? and What?

City, town, village and suburban residences seldom have enough shade trees, and certain it is that this factor is sadly neglected in rural grounds. Wisely selected and properly cared-for shade trees vastly enhance the value of real estate in addition to bringing more comfort to all persons who live near.

or pass by where attractive shade trees grow. One of the better measuring sticks for determining shade tree worth is to notice a street, a dwelling or a farm devoid of these blessings, particularly on a scorching afternoon in July.

In most cases one or more shade trees is needed in the front or formal part of the home grounds. Too, there is usually room for a few carefully located trees in the backyard, or utility portion of the property. Then of course, urban and suburban residences often need curb trees for both comfort and ornament and rural dwellers always find ample seasons for planting more trees along highways.

Two practical facts must be stressed in the "how" of shade tree planting. First, it is usually advisable to buy improved trees from a reputable nursery and keep the root mass moist in burlap wrapping until the tree is placed in the ground. Next, the hole should be dug deeper and larger in other dimensions than actually needed to accommodate the well spread roots, and this additional space should be filled with rich garden or fence row loam, perhaps with well rotted compost worked into the lower and later rooting stratum.

Among minor but important advice should be mentioned the necessity of pruning the tree back after planting in order to balance the volume of foliage demands for nourishment and moisture with the greatly interrupted ability of the roots to supply those requirements until the tree is well established. Tail specimens should be firmly staked to prevent swaying. And of course, the plants should be kept liberally watered over the first summer and fall.

The "what" of shade tree planting is by far the most difficult matter to decide. First, every potential grower has personal preferences. Too, the proper type of tree should be selected for the particular role it is to fill. And above all, maximum immunity from diseases must be sought. Among genera and species worth considering are: Ginkgo, for use along curbs and other sites inhospitable to most native trees; black

THREE DIE AS FOUR SPANS OF BRIDGE TUMBLE

Three Rivers, Que., Feb. 1 (AP)—Four spans of the concrete and steel Duplessis bridge collapsed Wednesday and sent at least three persons to their deaths. In 26-below zero weather their cars plunged into the St. Maurice river.

Each span is 180 feet long, part of a $3,000,000 highway bridge connecting Three Rivers with Cap De La Madeleine across the St. Maurice river.

For a time last winter the bridge was closed when cracks showed in the concrete but it was repaired. This collapse occurred at a place considerably removed from the previous damage.

First reports from the scene were that three spans had crashed, plunging down in a "V" formation, the point of which crushed its way through the ice. Then it became apparent that four spans actually were down.

Three Drivers Lost

At approximately the same hour fire gutted the Verdon hotel in the St. Lawrence river shipbuilding center of Sorel, 35 miles southwest of here, and two guests were reported missing. Police made plain, however, that the missing might have taken refuge in nearby homes.

The dead in the bridge crash, unidentified in early police reports, were drivers of three cars carried into the river when more than 500 feet of the $3,000,000 nine-span structure collapsed. Three persons were injured and taken to a hospital.

Eyewitnesses, most of them taxi drivers either just ready to cross the bridge from Three Rivers to Cap De La Madeleine or already on the bridge heading for Three Rivers, said the crash was a "near miss" for many.

They were able to see the bridge go down, see the three cars drop out of sight and stop in time. The St. Maurice joins the St. Lawrence here, 60 miles north of the border between Vermont and Canada.

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—State Sen. A. H. Letzler (R.-Clearfield) Monday said there is a good chance that dental and medical schools may be added to the Pennsylvania State college within the next seven years. "Pennsylvania has a critical shortage in training facilities in those fields and I think the State College

Hampton Driver In Head-on Collision

Both drivers and occupants of two cars that collided at 6 o'clock Monday evening on an icy spot on the Spring Grove-Hanover road, about one-fourth of a mile south of Spring Grove, escaped injury.

Police who investigated said that cars operated by Charles A. Laughman, Hampton, and Edward R. Rosenberg, Long Island City, N. Y., crashed head-on on the narrow bridge spanning Powder Mill run.

An icy stretch of the road was given as the cause of the accident. Damage to each of the two cars will amount to several hundred dollars, it was estimated.

Evidence from Swiss lake dwelling units indicate that men were herding sheep in 8,250 B.C. and that the occupation was ancient even then.

STRIKES, BAD WEATHER SLOW P. A. BUSINESS

Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (AP)—Spread- ing strikes coupled with the worst winter weather in three years today disrupted business and industrial life of this great commuting region, one of the nation's busiest.

A wildcat walkout of railroad employ- ees and a bus drivers' strike in New Jersey created a situation so acute that some industries were obliged to lay off thousands.

In other plants, stores and offices normal operations bogged down be- cause of forced absences or tardiness of employees hard put to find ways to get to work. Telephone lines hummed with employee-to-boss calls complaining of transport delays.

1,600,000 Affected
In the immediate Philadelphia area alone it was reckoned that some 50,000—by conservative esti- mate—were affected by the curtain- ment of commuter service over the two-state area.

Latest in the chain of develop- ments was word from Newark soon after midnight that Public Service workers—on buses and trolleys—had started a strike for higher wages. This walkout on the state's largest transit system cut off service to 1- 600,000 people. Involved in the action are about 6,500 bus and trolley drivers and maintenance men.

In the Philadelphia metropolitan area, the Pennsylvania railroad was hardest hit by the walkout of switchmen, yard workers and sub- urban trainmen. The road's exten- sive network of commuter lines was crippled, and service on some other PRR passenger trains was cancelled. Movement of freight was slowed down, hampering production in some factories.

A PRR spokesman said today that some 250 trainmen and about 1,000 yardmen are off duty. The railroad men have not formally called a strike. They simply have reported they are ill and stayed away from their jobs.

"Trainmen assigned to five of the six commuter lines serving Phila- delphia," the spokesman said, "re- ported 'sick' during the night, but the railroad plans to operate as nearly normal as possible during the peak commuter period this morning, with volunteer crews, on an emer- gency basis."

He said that during the midday period normal train service will be halved. The PRR line to Norristown will operate in normal fashion with regular crews, he added. A spokes- man for the Reading company said 240 of its employees—all in the freight department—had reported sick. Al- though this interfered with the movement of freight, he said, "our passenger service continues to be 100 per cent normal."

Philo corporation yesterday fur- loughed 13,000 employees, and the Budd company, one of the chief manufacturers of railway cars in the country, laid off nearly 2,000. Other workers were sent home by the Rail- way Express company, which em- bargoed all shipments for the duration of the walkout in Pennsylvania and 13 other northeastern states.

FARM CALENDAR

Suggests Shade Trees — As re- placements for shade trees destroyed or damaged by the late November storm, A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulturist of the Pennsylvania State college, has some suggestions: Norway maple, consid- ered resistant to wind and ice; red maple, fairly resistant; sycamore, maple, fairly resistant; and red oak, resistant.

Hatch Early Pullets — To provide more eggs for late summer and fall, F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, recommends winter-hatching of chicks. The pullets from these broods will come into production early and be laying at the time when egg shortages normally occur. Prices are higher then, too.

Save Garden Seeds — Vegetable seeds left over from last spring can be kept for planting if stored right, reminds J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. It is not necessary to put them in cold storage, but avoid heated rooms. About 50 degrees is right. Run a germination test before planting.

Prune in March — If you have only a few fruit trees and berry bushes, you can wait until March 1 to start pruning, says C. S. Bittner, Penn State extension fruit specialist. Prune grapes, apples, and sour cherries first, peaches, raspberries, currants, and sweet cherries later.

Repair Machinery — Winter is a convenient time to repair and clean farm machinery and equipment, re- mind Penn State extension agricul- tural engineers. Painting also may be needed in some cases.

Stop Money Leaks — Check on all farm operations to see where there may be costly money leaks, urges Kenneth Hood, Penn State extension agricultural economist. "A penny saved is a penny earned."

Cull the Flock — Frequent, close culling of the farm poultry flock is an important part of efficient oper- ation, reminds F. H. Leuschner, ex- tension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. When production goes below 50 per cent, it is time to start culling. Keep the flock producing at a high rate, he recommends.

Order Fruit Trees — If you are planning to buy additional fruit trees, place your order as soon as possible, says C. S. Bittner, Penn State extension fruit specialist. Order only locally adapted varieties and preferably one-year-old trees, 4 to 7 feet high. Trees of this type become established more quickly and grow out much faster.

Plan Farm Business — Produce all you can efficiently, urges E. L. Mof- fit, extension farm management specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Reduce costs by obtaining higher yields per animal and per acre. Cull out poor animals and poor acres. Use labor-saving equipment.

Grow more and better roughage to keep down purchased feed bills.

Control Parasites — For control of internal parasites, W. B. Connell, extension livestock specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, urges drenching sheep with phenothiazine two or three times a year. He also suggests a mixture of salt and phenothiazine be kept in front of the sheep while they are on pasture.

Buy Disease-free Seed — Many of the diseases of vegetables are seed- borne, A. H. Bauer, Penn State ex- tension plant pathologist, tells Penn- sylvania farmers that use of clean and certified seed is an important step in the production of any farm crop.

Freeze Good Meat — Select only good meat for quick freezing, says C. A. Burge, Penn State extension meat specialist. He also urges care- ful handling of the meat in prepar- ing it for the freezer.

It Is Grape Pruning Time

Every reader who owns a grape vine should have a copy of our pruning instructions at once. Merely enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for this timely information. This work should be completed on a mild day when the canes are not frozen and before sap begins to rise. Of course, all related fruit questions will be gladly answered. Include them in a letter to the editor when you ask for your copy of our grape pruning guide.

READ MESSAGE FROM GIRL WHO DIED OF CANCER

Tarentum, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—"Why was I born?"

Pretty, vivacious Virginia Sillman asked herself the question many times as she sickened and died within a year of cancer.

She penned the answer in a letter made public today just 24 hours after her death.

There had been five operations. The 21-year-old girl lost her baby. Her body was racked with pain.

Last November she wrote her last letter as a message of courage and hope to friends and relatives, especially husband Lawrence.

"Why was I born?"

She told her loved ones: "I feel that this has been my task here on earth—to bring you to the Lord. And even though I have suffered,

I have no regrets. I would suffer again for such a cause."

Sealed Until Death

Just as Virginia wanted, the letter remained sealed until after her death. Here are some of her words: "For years now, I've been asking myself—why was I born? For what reason did the dear Lord bless me with life? I've sat in church and prayed; I've prayed at home—dear Lord, what can I do to help Thee in Thy great work? I've tried to be loyal in my church attendance. I've tried to live Christianly. I've sung praises of the Lord with all my heart. I began teaching Sunday school when I was 14. But all this was not enough. I still found unrest. Then, as you know, a little over a year ago, my troubles began. But, because you've been such kind friends, a loyal family and a devoted husband, you made my troubles yours also.

Made Suffering Easier

"In these ways, you've made my suffering much easier. And although I've lost a baby, made four trips to the hospital and five to the operating room within the past

Littlestown

Littlestown—John Deere Day will be observed on Friday when free entertainment will be offered to all year, I haven't lost faith in the Lord. Matter of fact, I've come to know and love Him more than I ever have.

"But most important of all, you have noticed this. You have seen what the Lord has done for me and you have found Him for yourself also. Your faith has been strengthened, too. I know for I've been watching and I've seen you grow to be more spiritually minded. And because you have, I have found peace of mind.

"Even now, some people are wondering how long I will live. But I have no fear of dying. If the Lord decides to take me, I only pray that when that time comes, you—my friends, family and husband—will have found enough faith—through my faith—to bear the sorrow of our parting."

farmers and their families. The following motion pictures will be shown at 1 p.m. at the Towne theater, Littlestown: "One Happy Family," the special feature picture, plus "Oddities in Farming," "What's New in John Deere Farm Equipment," and other new pictures. This program is being sponsored by Walter F. Crouse, Littlestown John Deere dealer. The tickets, which are free, may be secured at Mr. Crouse's place of business, along the Littlestown-Taneytown highway.

The Loyalty Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will hold its monthly meeting on Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, following the 7:30 o'clock vesper services at St. Paul's. The class, of which Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner is teacher, will meet in the Adult Sunday school room of the church. Group Six composed of Mrs. Walter I. DeGroff, Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon, Mrs. Glenn Breighner, Mrs. Grace Jacobs, Mrs. George Schaeffer and Mrs. Herman Newman, will be in charge of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heiser, Sr., near Littlestown, held a party at their home on Sunday afternoon in celebration of the eighth birthday anniversary of their granddaughter, Rita Ann. The guest of honor was the recipient of many gifts. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served to the following children: Patsy Croft, Peggy Croft, Connie Grove, Joyce Billett, Judy Wolfe, Fiona Harner, Sharon Heiser, Vicki Hood, Carolyn Morget, Betty Heiser, Marion Heiser, Sydney Noble, Sylvia Noble, Edward Heiser, III, David Shusser, Donald Harner, Zane Harner, John Heiser and adults, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Croft, Mrs. Adele Grove, Mr. and Mrs. John Heiser, Marvin Morget, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heiser, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heiser, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fager, Lumber street, attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Mary Lou Pinkerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pinkerton, of Columbia, on Saturday afternoon when she was married to George C. Smith at the Presbyterian church in Columbia. The bride was attended by her sister, Joy, as maid of honor, and her twin sisters, Betty and Jetty, were bridesmaids. The four girls are well known in Littlestown, from their frequent visits here. Mr. and Mrs. Fager were among the 175 guests at the reception which was held in the social hall of the church, immediately following the ceremony. Other guests from town were the bride's great aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Noah C. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Emory H. Snyder and Mrs. Luther D. Snyder. The couple is spending a honeymoon in Florida after which they will go to housekeeping in their newly furnished home on Thirteenth street in Columbia.

It's a great deal easier to get an income to come in than stay in.

MILK CONTROL COMMISSION IS FACING FIGHT

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Milk Control commission faces a fight for survival in the 1951 legislature.

Because of its price fixing function, the commission has long been the center of a storm of controversy between milk dealers, producers and consumer groups.

A bill now before the State Senate seeks to cancel the 18-year-old milk control law.

Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D-Allentown), sponsor of the measure, said the people of Pennsylvania need a milk commission about as much as he needs "a hole in the head."

The national price climb since World War Two, causing the commission to adjust milk prices frequently, has served to aggravate its economic role in the state. The commission disclosed in its final report to former Gov. James H. Duff that it issued no less than 163 general price orders during the period from 1947 through 1950.

The commission is empowered by law to fix minimum milk prices in the commonwealth, but has no jurisdiction over maximum prices.

While chances appear remote that the legislature will throw out the milk control law in its entirety, there are strong indications the law may be in for some drastic overhauling.

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—A mother and father combined heroic rescue efforts Monday to save their three children from death in the family's burning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Metzgar, of nearby Hayfield township, are the heroes. Metzgar, 29, tried to lead his family to safety but found the stairs blocked by flames. He then jumped out a second story window to catch the youngsters whom Mrs. Metzgar dropped to him from the window. Then he broke his wife's jump.

Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (AP)—Nine per cent of last year's Series E savings bond purchases were made by Pennsylvanians, the state advisory chairman of the Pennsylvania Savings Bond Division reports. Arthur C. Kaufman said yesterday Series E bond purchases in Pennsylvania during 1950 reached $317,513,771.
